Your financial outcome will depend on whether you choose the path stacked with medical experts, diagnostics, case management and technology innovation, or the path riddled with red flags. Here's what you need to know about the Peak Performance difference.

1. PEAK PERFORMANCE

You seek an attorney supported by the diagnostic and case management services of Peak Performance.

2. COMPREHENSIVE SCREENING

Full coordination of care including a telehealth intake interview with a nurse practitioner, neurologist, and orthopedic surgeon, including expert injury data capture and pain level assessments.

3. EXPERT REFERRAL

Immediate referral recommendations based on the screening interview with Peak Performance. From there, you receive treatment or undergo additional diagnostic testing.

RED FLAG – Standard Procedure

Standard assessments can't identify the 200+ potential injuries Peak comprehensive intake can. Plus, no neurologist engaged 99% of the time can lead to improper evaluation of TBI.

4. ADVANCED DIAGNOSTICS

If a potential brain injury is suspected, Peak Performance will perform in-house diagnostic testing using state-of-the-art technology that can detect TBI, mTBI and AOMSI injuries.

Peak Performance utilizes:

- Brainview - An EEG-based starting point
- Synthink - Data against defensive insurers
- Video Motion Analysis - Address AOMSI injuries with a neurologist

RED FLAG – Basic Diagnosis

Using typical X-ray or MRI scans, up to 90% of TBI damage goes undetected, and most of the more than 65% of accident victims who suffer AOMSI remain undiagnosed.

6. CASE MANAGEMENT

All medical records, data, and diagnosis paperwork is provided to your attorney to increase your chances of a successful outcome, including Police Reports, Case Policy Limits, Notarized Records, Settlement Negotiations.

5. IMPAIRMENT RATING

Based on the injury evaluations and diagnostics, our experts assign you an impairment rating to quantify the degree of injury so that all parties can align.

RED FLAG – Case Management

With so much on their plate, many attorneys may not account for all the thousands of Decision Points insurers use to calculate compensation, leading to lower valuations.

8. DEMAND CREATION

Peak Performance will build a comprehensive, AMA-compliant demand letter that details your medical information in a way that's more challenging to refute in court.

7. MEDICAL EXAMINATION

A third-party medical examiner reviews your medical records for accuracy and provides a stamp approval, which can make it more difficult for defendants and insurers to disqualify the medical information.

RED FLAG – Demand Letter

Roughly 85-90% of attorneys don't realize they're not writing demand letters compliant with AMA medical guidelines, contributing to a drawn-out timeline to settlement.

9. ATTORNEY PARTNERSHIP

Peak Performance compiles all these resources and sends them to your attorney, assuring they build the strongest case possible.

RED FLAG – Inaccuracies

Without accurate injury assessment or expert reviews, victims of injury become victims of the legal and insurance process, softening settling out of court for poor valuations and small settlements.

10. SUCCESSFUL OUTCOMES

Peak Performance provides attorneys and clients with actionable insights, helping to collapse the timeline to resolve a case.

- 8 FDA-approved clearances
- More than a dozen peer-reviewed clinical publications
